

SPORTING AFFAIRS

Edited by "DOC" BATES COPELAND

"The mighty nimrods are off." Wm. Mounts, Roy Beckwith, Judge Berry and Fred Holsten left Sunday afternoon for the bass lakes in the vicinity of Woodlake, east of Valentine, driving to Rushville by auto, then taking the Northwestern the remainder of the trip.

It would be hard to select a quartet of better fishermen than the one mentioned above and there are no better bass lakes in the state than those at Woodlake, so be prepared for some unusual fish stories on their return.

Just received the following in this week's (Wednesday) mail: "Doc" Copeland, Sporting Editor, Alliance Herald, Woodlake, Nebraska, 6-9-13. Well, we are here and will start for lakes in a few minutes. Beckwith has worked up a high fever. We got to bed at 12 last night but he was up and walking around about 4 this morning. Holsten is catching it. Fine morning but windy. Think we will have a good time. (signed) Bill Mounts."

Johnny King is working along fine defeating Wichita in the second game of a double header Sunday, to a 3 to 4 score. This makes him 3 won and 1 lost, and topping 4. He is batting average in the western league. I guess he will make good, don't you.

Ray Bohner has quit the state league and is attending a dental college in South Dakota and playing independent ball.

The undefeated Ardmore team of South Dakota will be seen in action at driving park Sunday afternoon with the undefeated Alliance Cubs. This will be a good fast game. Ardmore has been playing ball with the teams in the hills and the Cubs have the best battery of any team in the northwest, and with "Budd" Darnell on the firing line will be a guarantee of a good game. Budd is pitching better than ever. Go out and see a good pitcher's battle.

Table with 2 columns: Cubes and Ardmore. Lists names and initials of players on both teams.

Leach Cross is on his way to Los Angeles, where he is billed to meet "Bud" Anderson in a twenty round go July 4th. Cross has been fighting in top notch class of late and is one of the best in the light weight class, but in meeting Anderson he meets a fighter who is capable of dealing out severe punishment in 20 rounds. I do not believe Cross will be able to travel the distance.

Ad Wolgast, who was billed to meet Johnny Dundee on the 10th, which was called off owing to an injury to his hand is contemplating a three months trip to the Hawaiian Islands as a recuperating vacation.

Would you be surprised to see Ross Hull in the box scores in the state league in the near future? He is getting the fever and working out daily and states that he has more than ever with smoke to burn. At present he has several offers to pitch on July 4th.

Champion Willie Ritchie and Joe Rivers are matched to fight for the light weight championship at Frisco July 4th for 20 rounds. Matchmaker Eddie Graner has experienced a great deal of trouble getting these two together on the weight question, finally signing to weigh in at 134 pounds. This is the best that could be arranged for a July 4th date and Rivers is the toughest scrapper that Mr. Nolan could get for Champion Ritchie, but Nolan is foxy and knows all angles of the game.

Charles A. Dake, who used to catch ball in the Alliance team, and worked at the Drake hotel, was married Tuesday at Lincoln to Lillian M. Woodward, of Waterville, Kans.

The nimrods are back and have the goods to show for their trip, bringing some extra large bass. Fred Holsten stated on his return, "Last night about six o'clock I was out in a boat in the center of the lake where I had located a school of large bass, when I discovered I had on a small hook and in going thru my pockets for a larger hook I found—what? Why, two tickets to the 'Cabaret'. I rowed to the bank and hurried the bunch together and made a hard drive to town, just in time to catch the train to Rushville, where we drove back in Mount's car. Did we have a good time? Yes, going again. B-a-a-a fishing is fun, but I couldn't miss 'Fun in a Cabaret'."

Sand Hills Sky Pilot

Rev. D. W. Montgomery, district superintendent for northwestern Nebraska of the Presbyterian church, will cover his territory this summer by horse and buggy. He started out this morning on his first trip, with as fine an equipment for travel as could be carried in a single buggy, including lunch box, tepee, fishing tackle, gun, camera, etc. He goes north to Kelly, thence down the North Platte river to Broadwater, thence northeast through Morrill and northeast through Morrill and Garden counties to McPherson county, and thence south again, reaching Peetz, Colo., in about two weeks. Before leaving he had bills printed, to be sent ahead, containing the following announcement: "David W. Montgomery, Sand Hills Sky Pilot, will preach at _____, on _____. You are cordially invited to come and to bring your friends."

To the kind friends who sent the flowers and to the L. S. of B. of L. F. & E., for tender sympathy, we wish to give our thanks in our bereavement. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Desomber. Mr. Charley Murn.

THE ALLIANCE CHAUTAUQUA

Starts July 7 — Lasts Five Days

Have you heard about it? This town is going to have a Chautauqua in about four weeks — a real, sure-enough Chautauqua. It will last for five days and will be in a big tent. A genuine hot weather proposition that will be cool and pleasant. Fine music, fine Chautauqua orators and a whole lot of entertainment—the clean kind. It is the finest thing the town has all year.

Take a glance at this list of talent: Mrs. A. C. Zehner of the South, a fine southern orator. The Bennett Male Quartette, four lively college chaps who certainly can sing. The Military Girls, six girls in military costume singing stirring military airs. Ellsworth Plumstead, entertainer. The Fisher-Shipp Company, a variety company headed by Miss Shipp. Geo. C. Aydelott, a lecturer you'll like.

The Regniers, four talented musicians and entertainers. Ned Woodman, cartoonist. F. E. Gordon, lecturer. The Royal Italian Guards Band of Venice in Italy. Chancellor George H. Bradford of Oklahoma, church educator and lecturer on practical, inspirational subjects.

Dr. C. C. Mitchell, the fiery little minister from Rhode Island. The Debate between Congressman Charles F. Scott and Henry J. Allen on the future of the political parties. Mr. Scott is a staunch Republican and Mr. Allen a Progressive. Congressman Scott was the director of the publicity bureau of the last national campaign and a member of Congress, and also chairman of the committee on agriculture. Mr. Allen is a well known political writer and newspaper owner in Denver.

The season tickets are on sale now. Get a ticket and get to the Chautauqua. The Junior Chautauqua, for boys and girls, will be a big feature.—Adv.

The following letter was mailed to every member of Post M this week by the Press committee:

Dear fellow member of Post M, TPA: We met at the Burlington Hotel Saturday afternoon. On account of the great expense it was decided to abandon the idea of a picnic in the Black Hills. Instead of that we voted to take up the offer of the Entertainment Committee of the big Stockmen's Convention, which will be held in Alliance on June 26th, 27th and 28th, and make FRIDAY, JUNE 27th, T. P. A. DAY.

We want every member of Post M to be in Alliance on that date and to get every friend whom he can persuade, to come. Let us make this day one long to be remembered by western Nebraska. It will take the assistance of every member of the Post to do it right.

Under separate cover we are mailing you ten special post cards, inviting a friend to come to the city on T. P. A. day. Sign these and mail to ten of your friends. We will also send you some of the Convention advertising matter to distribute. Are mailing you marked copy of The Herald under separate cover.

We want the city beautifully decorated on T. P. A. day and every member of this Post should ask his firm to send him a great big bunch of souvenirs or advertising matter of some kind to distribute. Write your firm today.

Mr. E. G. Westover is taking the law course at the University of Nebraska and will return to Lincoln this fall. It is very probable that he will locate permanently in Alliance when his law course is finished.

Saturday Flag Day

Saturday, June 14th, has been designated by Governor Morehead as Nebraska Flag Day for this year. The Herald wishes to urge upon Alliance business men and other readers to observe the day, as requested in the governor's proclamation, which reads as follows: In compliance with a custom of such long standing that it has come to be regarded as the law of the land, I hereby designate Saturday, June 14, 1913, as Flag Day.

That while enjoying the blessings of liberty so beautifully typified by the Stars and Stripes we may not forget the sacrifices made to maintain that emblem, I recommend that, as far as possible, the day be devoted to such exercises as tend to develop a love of country and pride in our national emblem. On that day it will have waved as the emblem of our sovereignty for one hundred and thirty-six years; the pride and glory of American citizenship and the hope and inspiration of the humble and oppressed of other lands.

I earnestly request that the people of Nebraska on June 14, 1913, display the national colors on all state, municipal and school buildings. Given under my hand and the great seal of the state this 9th day of June, 1913.

JOHN H. MOREHEAD, Governor.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Lloyd's Column

It's hard to believe, but since we saw it in the Times is must be true. The following item was taken from the Canton correspondence in that paper of last Friday: "There was another wedding in this vicinity Thursday of last week, the contracting parties being Mrs. Laura Anderson and Mrs. Edwin Faye. We extend congratulations. They were married at Gering by the county judge and will live on Mrs. Faye's homestead." Now, what we don't understand is this: will the happy family be called "Faye" or "Anderson"? When a man and woman marry the woman usually takes his name, but in the case of two women, as here, there would be reason to doubt as to which name would be taken. Who's the pessimist who has been saying that times were hard and getting worse? Don't you believe it for a minute. Any financial depressions are only local and temporary at that. Why, look here, the Baldwin Locomotive Works from January 1 to May 1, 1913, sold $15,000,000 worth of new locomotives to railroads, an unprecedented record. If business was getting slow why would the railroads be placing big orders like this for new equipment? The Charles Warner Company, big manufacturers of lime and cement for builders, broke all previous sales records for the first four months of the year. If dull times are coming, why are people spending millions of dollars for new buildings like this? Oscar K. Lyle, the financial expert, who has just completed a six weeks' tour of the important winter wheat states for the big financial house of S. B. Chapin & Co., says an unusually heavy crop is indicated at this time. He places the probable yield at 475,000,000 bushels, and says it may possibly be larger. The total crop last year was 339,919,000 bushels and in 1911 it was 430,656,000 bushels. That doesn't look like hard times.

This was not in Bronco Lake

New York, May 31.—When John Elliott left De Hart's dock, Mariner Harbor, S. I., to get a drink of buttermilk he tied his two fishing lines to the collar of his bull terrier and hitched the terrier to the stringpiece.

When he came back the dog was gone. He whistled and got a muffled bark in response. He looked over the edge of the dock and saw the dog swimming with two sea bass in tow, one hooked to either line. Elliott got into a boat, rescued the dog and retrieved the fish.

He lives at 224 Broad street, Elizabeth, N. J., where he can be found by any reader who doubts the veracity of the Staten Island reporter.
